

Teachers Salute Dr. Petty

Dr. W. C. Petty of Antioch, who will retire in August after 40 years of service as Lake County superintendent of schools was honored at Teachers Institute meetings in Waukegan and Deerfield.

At the Deerfield meeting, plans were announced for a scholarship fund by Lake County teachers to honor the veteran educator.

The Antioch Upper Center band saluted Petty at the meeting held in West Campus of Waukegan High School, and was directed by George Olsar.

Speaking was Stanley W. McKee.

At Deerfield High School, Cornelia Roberts, representing the retired speakers spoke. Others were Louis Orr, representing the active teachers; Mrs. Stephanie Orfall, private school teachers, and Sam Filippo, the beginning teachers.

Gilbert Clem announced the scholarship fund in honor of Petty.

Lake County has seen many changes in the last 40 years, but one thing has not changed.

The name signed as the chief school officer on hundreds of teachers' certificates and thousands of other forms and reports dealing with Lake County schools has remained the same—William C. Petty.

He started out with the title of County Superintendent of Schools; he is now designated Superintendent, Educational Service Region. The title may have changed, but the same man remained in charge.

Dr. Petty has shepherded the schools of the country through a period of depression and periods of inflation and prosperity. He has coped with the special school problems created by world wide conflict and more limited military efforts. He has seen the instituting of teacher-tenure laws and provisions for teacher pensions. He has watched the county grow in population and become increasingly urbanized.

At the time of his induction into the office of county superintendent of schools on March 11, 1931, there were 112 school districts in Lake County, the majority of which were one-teacher schools. While his office served all school districts, his relations with the smallest districts was a very direct, personal one; for in these tiny districts Dr. Petty was responsible for overseeing the hiring of teachers, for setting up the course of study, for administering tests, and for presenting awards. He was constantly traveling throughout the county taking care of routine matters and meeting the various emergencies which arose.

The school population in 1931 comprised 14,565 pupils in elementary schools and 4,346 secondary school pupils. Today Lake County has 64,145 elementary and 27,821 high school students enrolled in its 54 public school districts.

If the number of students in the private and parochial schools which come under his supervision are included, Dr. Petty now presides over an office responsible for the education of more than 100,000 students.

Dr. Petty has always been concerned with expanding the services provided by the schools. Shortly after he took office he began campaigning for electric lights and running water in all school buildings.

He can claim total victory in that campaign, but he continues to work for many other improvements; more and better lunch programs, increased health services, the provision of a well staffed library in every school, (Continued on page two) to be freed soon to allow the construction of low rent housing for the elderly in Antioch.

Funds Expected Soon For Elderly Housing

This was indicated in a letter received from Cong. Robert McClory, R-Lake Bluff, and made public Monday night at the Antioch Village Board meeting.

An application for the 100 unit structure has been filed by the Lake County Housing Authority in behalf of the village more than a year ago.

Only Antioch Township residents would be eligible for residence in the low rent units.

Funds for low rent housing have been frozen by the Federal Office of Management and Budget, said McClory, but he expected the Antioch project to be funded soon—possibly in several weeks.

The Lake County Housing Authority filed the application for funds with the Chicago office of the Housing and Urban Development.

County officials have been sending resolutions to Washington officials including McClory's office and those of Sen. Percy and Stevenson to release the funds so that building the structure could get underway.

Elderly citizens have found it difficult to find suitable rental space on the amount of money they receive from Social Security, officials have written McClory, Stevenson and Percy.

"It looks good for Antioch," said Village Mayor Raymond Toft. "I expect the Housing Authority to be surveying Antioch for possible sites."

Some village officials indicated that a site would be sought near the downtown area to which most facilities would be available to senior citizens without using automobiles or other surface transportation.

McClory said other communities such as Round Lake and Zion would get their money about the same time as Antioch.

Both of those communities have asked for federal money to construct low rent housing for the elderly.

Of Judges

Judges for the April 20 Village Election were voted a $5 raise to $30 by trustees Monday night.

The judges for the election are Mrs. Carolyn Horan, Mrs. Evelyn Frazier, Mrs. Zella Larson, Mrs. Lila Palinski, and Christian Schultz.

Registered voters will cast ballots in the village hall. Voting will be from 6 a.m. until 6 p.m.

The judges will be briefed by Village Clerk Marilyn Stenzon on the conduct of the election April 13.

Four trusteeships will be filled at the election. One of them is for a two-year unexpired term, while three others are for four year terms.

Fourth grade students from Emmons School toured the facilities of the State Bank of Antioch, accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Diane Baum. Hosting the group was Fred Holbert, auditor of the bank. Mrs. Baum and six of the students, Leslie Dowdal, Scott Gallagher, Greg Bodin, Debbie Wilson, Sandy Morris and David Volling, listen as Mr. Holbert explains the workings of the proof machine through which all transactions of the bank are processed.

Engineer Authorized To File For 2 Grants

A referendum apparently will be bypassed to expand Antioch's sewage disposal plant and water works facilities.

Because of the village's economic position and the reservation of funds for additional sewer plant facilities, bonding company officials said this status will enable the village to bypass a referendum.

The village's excellent financial condition will allow it to file an application for state and federal funds to enlarge the plant to a capacity of a million and a quarter gallons geared for a population of 7,500.

The application for state money will have to be made with the Environmental Protection Agency under the State Anti-Pollution Act.

Application for federal monies will be made under Public Law 660.

Officials of Benjamin and Lang, who met last week with village officials, said without the $100,000 appropriated for the sewage facilities the village would have had to go to the residents for a bond issue before it could seek state money.

Village Attorney Edward Jacobs said the application with the state will enable the village to get on the 1972 list for funds.

"It does not mean we will get the money in 1972," said Jacobs. "We get a number and wait our turn."

He indicated the money could be allotted in 1973 or could take longer.

"It depends on what number is assigned the village after the ap- (Continued on page two)

GOP's Endorse Murrie

The Antioch Township Republican Club voted to endorse the team of Lloyd "Red" Murrie for Township Supervisor and Blaine Ring for Highway Commissioner in the upcoming township election on Tuesday, April 6.

The ATRC recommended that Murrie and Ring be retained in their respective jobs on the basis of their experience, ability, and the excellent record which each have made in the administration of their offices.

The ATRC also felt that since Murrie's main opponent still has two years to serve in his present office, that it is incumbent upon him to finish out the term for which he asked the people to elect him.

Walter Delaney, building commissioner, and plumbing, heating and electrical inspector, has been appointed assistant Civil Defense director for Antioch.

He will serve until May. Robert C. Wilton, street and lighting chairman, announced that the traffic lights at Lake and Main Streets have been restored to service.

Delay in repairing them was due to the absence of parts, he said.

The trustees' recommendation of Wilton's study committee ordered the installation of a stop sign at First Street at Parkway. It will require eastbound traffic to stop before moving toward Main Street.

Objecting was J. Irving Walsh who said there should be a slow or children playing sign but not a stop sign since there were three others within a block and a half radius before reaching Main St.

Trustees Authorize Snow Removal Bill

A snow removal ordinance was ordered drafted Monday night by Antioch Village Board members in wake of complaints received this winter of snow remaining on sidewalks.

"It is the liability of the property owner to keep it clean though it is in the public right-of-way,"

Trustee George Bartlett said if the village performed the service it could mean an increase in taxes since added manpower and machine would be needed to remove the snow.

L. Barnstable, George W. Bartlett, Richard H. Radke and Richard O. Burnette supported the committee's recommendation. Walsh cast the only negative vote.

Wilton announced that not all the appraisals for downtown parking sites have been received by his committee.

He said that talks will start soon with an owner of property in the downtown area. He did not identify the person.

Inspect Shelter Markings

Edward Frazier, Civil Defense director, has completed an inspection of the newly-installed fallout shelter markings in the downtown area.

The markers were installed at the proper locations by village employees that consisted of Earl Lowe, George Boyd, James Krieger and Ron Horton.

The installation was supervised by Public Works Superintendent Charles Maplethorpe.

The buildings that were marked, according to the Army Engineers' Department of Defense, have been approved as safe locations in the event of a nuclear attack.

The only carpeted areas of the school are the learning center, the general office, superintendent's office - board room which flank the main entrance, and a spacious audio-visual room.

The center has been planned for large group instruction with seating for 100 students on seven graduated levels. Films will be projected on a rear view screen behind the lecture platform.

Honey-combed fixtures diffuse hall lighting and eliminate the harsh glare usually associated with public buildings. There are five banks of three adjoining classrooms, and two banks of two.

Some of the classrooms can be enlarged for team teaching by folding track dividers which double as chalk boards. Others are separated by according partitions.

Each of two adjoining science labs has space for four students at every five learning stations. A new feature is a state-required shower, in the event of accidents during class sessions.

A humidity controlled room with growing lights will aid students in plant study.

The nurse's office, with two sick bays, is located in the center of the building and is surrounded by band and vocal music rooms, arts and crafts, and the home economics department.

Excellent acoustics are assured in the band room by a curved rear wall and suspended ceiling for sound deadening.

Future homemakers learn the secrets of gourmet cooking in a modern kitchen completely equipped with electric ranges, refrigerators, washing machines and dryers.

Counter tops and cupboards are eye level height for "pint sized" youngsters.

Sewing and art of good grooming are available in the clothing machine. There are 16 sewing machines.

The cafeteria seats 200, with a raised platform partitioned for faculty dining. The cafeteria can also be used for small productions staged on the raised platforms.

The space kitchen includes a large freezer and cold storage room with facilities adequate to prepare meals for the upper grade center and also Emmons Grade Center.

The industrial arts department is equipped with electric saws, soldering, metal and wood-working tools.

At the dedication, the Antioch Grade School Band will play; colors will be presented by the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The invocation will be by the Rev. Phillip O. Laurin, pastor of St. Stephen's Lutheran Church, Antioch, and benediction by the Rev. Alfred Henderson, pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Church.

McClory will be introduced by W. C. Petty, Lake County school superintendent.

Also speaking will be Milo Bailey, president of the board of education.

Because parking at the school will be limited shuttle buses will run between the Municipal Parking lot, the Antioch Grade School parking lot and the Upper Grade School, Supt. Henry Meyer said.

Winners in the Americanism essay contest sponsored by the Antioch American Legion Auxiliary were Denise Golanka, Judy Vendl, and Wendell Burris. They are shown with Mrs. John L. Horan, Americanism chairman. The essay topic was "If Freedom Fails."

EDITORIAL

Thanks Dr. Petty!

A long and colorful career will close in five months, but we'd like to devote some of our editorial space to an Antioch man who has done so much to help education in Lake County.

This man is Dr. William C. Petty who will be retiring in August, thus completing 40 years of conscientious and loyal service to the people of Lake County.

Without the efforts of Dr. Petty, many of the educational services could not have been expanded. From the moment he took office, he pushed the fight for electric lights and running water in all school buildings.

He can claim victory in that direction, but he continues in the forefront for other improvements such as lunch programs, increased health service, the provision of a well-stocked and well-staffed library in every school, and more efficient and safe transportation of school children.

He helped to establish the Special Education Joint Agreement District of Lake County (SEDOL). He didn't stop there as he went on to promote the formation of a junior college district now known as the College of Lake County.

More than 4,000 full and part-time students attend the Grayslake campus and the Lake Zurich and Waukegan extensions of the College of Lake County.

Dr. Petty has consistently worked to effect better educational programs and facilities and who has extended to many teachers and prospective teachers personal courtesies beyond the requirement of his office.

Hazards Of The Night

The hazards of driving at night are numerous.

They include more than reduced visibility, fatigue and headlight glare.

Night-time driving dangers are:

—Smoking. Smoking reduces the supply of oxygen to the brain and limits vision.

—Age. As you grow older, your night vision decreases. A driver at age 40 needs more light than a person of 20. And at age 60 he needs considerably more light.

—Drunk drivers. They are encountered more frequently at night. More than half of all traffic fatalities involve a person who has been drinking.

—Secondary and rural roads. Many of these roads are full of hazards and should make drivers extremely cautious. Many have unmarked curves, sharp hills, blind intersections, narrow bridges and poor shoulders. Frequently, they lack reflective road edge marking and reflective traffic signs, to which drivers have become accustomed on major routes and expressway systems.

—Stalled, parked and unmarked cars. With their taillights off, these cars are much harder to see at night. So don't overdrive your headlights.

—Speed. Studies show that drivers tend to increase their speed at night—perhaps because of light traffic conditions. A creeping increase in speed can be fatal, so check your speedometer frequently.

—Pedestrians and animals. Both are always a potential hazard because they are hard to see in darkness.

Crackdown Ordered Township Official Endorses Nixon's Plea of Government

Antioch is going to take action against property owners with footing tiles in front of their homes.

Village officials believe that water draining into the tiles eventually winds up into the sanitary sewer that causes overloading of the sewage disposal plant.

The issue of footing tiles came up Monday night after Walter Delaney, building inspector, reported on an excavation in Oakwood Knolls that is filled with water and has no place to drain off since the site is in a low area.

"We thought Oakwood Knolls would be a good area for our sewer system," said Trustee Vern L. Barnstable, "but it is one of the worst in the village."

Trustees have requested that the builder meet with them to discuss the flooding problem. "We want to avoid the future occupant the trouble of having water in his basement," said Village Mayor Raymond Toft.

The mayor suggested that possibly some of the low areas in Oakwood Knolls could be acquired through an exchange of lots and be used as park sites.

The village trustees in the future will issue all building permits until flooding problems have been corrected, they voted Monday night.

and more efficient and safe transportation of school youngsters. He has been particularly interested in providing for children who cannot be adequately educated in the regular classroom.

He considers the organizing of the Special Education Joint Agreement District of Lake County (SEDOL) in 1960 one of his outstanding achievements.

In 1963 Grove School, a private institution for training the multiple handicapped, presented him a scroll in recognition of his dedicated service to the handicapped children on Lake County.

Dr. Petty was also a leader of the group promoting the formation of the junior college district now known as College of Lake County. The public hearings and elections which created this district were held under his auspices.

His influence has extended well beyond the county. For five years Dr. Petty was manager of the Illinois State Teachers' Reading Circle Board.

In 1941 he was appointed by Governor Green as one of the nine members to constitute the Illinois Public School Commission set up for the purpose of codifying all laws of the State of Illinois pertaining to public schools and public education.

Trustees said there was a problem on snow removal especially when sidewalks were in front of undeveloped property, but they were in agreement that something should be done to compel the homeowner to keep the sidewalk free of snow.

Some villages and cities have special snow removal units to clean sidewalks. One city is Waukegan.

Coast Guard Moves To Fox Lake Area

The U. S. Coast Guard Boating Safety Detachment 09-1 moved their Headquarters from Chicago Customs Building on Canal Street, Chicago, to 17 S. Rt. 12, Fox Lake.

The Boating Safety Detachment has operated in the Fox Chain of Lakes for the past 17 years trailing their patrol boat and crew from Chicago.

The reason for the move was the Fox Chain of Lakes offers the most concentrated area of pleasure boating in the four states in which the detachment operates.

Facilities available at their new Coast Guard establishment are:

1. Office space for the detachment.
2. Boating Safety Center.
3. Classroom and meeting facilities.
4. Courtesy Examination Station.

tion for the Coast Guard Auxiliary.

5. Communications and Patrol co-ordination Center.

The personnel of the detachment will not be in full operation until April 1. However, there will be personnel at the Safety Center to answer questions during the week from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

After April 1, Coast Guardsmen will be at the Center on weekends from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. and will be available 24 hours on Friday, Saturday and Sunday for search and rescue.

Career Conference To Be Held March 24

The Lake County Training Association has set Wednesday, March 24, for its first annual Career Conference to be held all day at the Lake County Fairgrounds in Grayslake.

More than 50 businesses and industries from all around the county will attend with each preparing a display for the conference. The business and industries will be setting up any form of display they prefer. March 23, and each will have a spokesman at the booth to answer questions on Wednesday.

Some 1500 senior vocational students will attend the one day session from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., and then the building will be opened to the public at 4 p.m., running until nine o'clock. All of the high schools in Lake County are planning to attend.

James Haas, Vocational Guidance Counselor at North Chicago High School, is the chairman of the project. He outlined three basic goals of the conference. "We want to reduce employment turnover, thus we hope this conference will aid in matching youth's interests to the proper industry. This will also give the youth a wider exposure to all career opportunities, and this does help our business community obligation."

The meeting, which will be in building 7 of the Fairgrounds, will be donating any and all proceeds to charity here in Lake County. The Fairgrounds are at the junction of Route 120 and Highway 45.

IRS Warns Against Scare Ads

Taxpayers were warned today against misleading newspaper, radio and TV ads conveying the impression that the tax law greatly complicates their 1970 returns.

E. P. Trainor, District Director of Internal Revenue for Northern Illinois, said the ads placed by some commercial preparers of tax returns also picture the Form 1040 as extremely complex in order to discourage taxpayers from attempting to fill out their own returns.

Mr. Trainor said the IRS has tried to make improvements in the form and in filing procedures in response to numerous suggestions from taxpayers, lawyers, accountants, and others. In addition, the IRS has this year offered to figure the income tax and retirement income credit for up to 30 million taxpayers filing 1970 returns.

Having IRS figure the tax could reduce the largest single type of error made by taxpayers, selection of the wrong tax table or rate schedule, as well as help elderly persons with retirement income credit calculations, Mr. Trainor said.

Taxpayers should also be careful of "guarantees" offered by some commercial preparers of returns that make it appear that they will represent the taxpayer in any subsequent audit, Mr. Trainor said. Generally, only attorneys, CPAs, and those who, by demonstrating their qualifications, are enrolled for practice, can represent a taxpayer before the IRS. Taxpayers should be sure of just what is meant by a "guarantee" offered by a preparer.

Mr. Trainor explained that if a taxpayer employs a commercial preparer to fill out his return, he should select a reputable one. Regardless of who fills in the form, the taxpayer is responsible for the accuracy of the return.

IMMUNIZATION

Not To Teach About Drugs Is Violation Of Illinois Law

Illinois law as embodied in the state School Code covers some charming pieces of legal territory.

For instance, it says right there in the revised statutes that every public school teacher must teach honesty, kindness, justice and moral courage "for the purpose of lessening crime and raising the standards of good citizenship."

To what extent Kindness 101 is included in the common curricula is anybody's guess, but it shouldn't be a difficult one.

It was something like this that a college-age Sunday school class went looking for when they decided that the nitty-gritty on narcotics ought to be part of elementary education in their Southern Illinois town.

Not having a handy copy of the statute—or even knowing exactly what they were looking for—they wrote to a source in Springfield.

Lo and behold, Section 27-10, "Nature and effects of alcoholic drinks and narcotics."

What the law says, in brief, is that every student from first grade through the freshman year of high school has to be taught—every year—from 30 to 40 lessons covering the subject of booze and dope and their effects on the human system.

It spells out how many pages textbooks should devote to the subject and requires that teacher certification tests include examinations on the subjects and the best ways of teaching it.

And the law is not without a tooth or two: "Any school officer who neglects or fails to comply with the provisions of this section shall forfeit and pay for each offense not less than $5 nor more than $25."

Well, now. It seems that teaching youngsters about drugs isn't just advisable (as more and more concerned educators and parents are saying); it is, in Illinois at least, a violation of the law not to.

Of course, there are a few other School Code laws that may get less attention than a "Yield" sign in the middle of a glacier. How many kiddies duly observe American Indian Day on the fourth Friday of September? And what suitable observances are respected each Oct. 9, which is, as every schoolboy knows, Lelf Erickson Day? Do they still go out and plant a tree on whatever spring day the governor designates as Arbor and Bird Day?

But most school people appear to be trying to do something about a problem few of them can or want to ignore. William Holder, superintendent of the Carbondale High School district, has a drug education package ready to present to his board which he says "could be one of the outstanding programs in the U.S."

He indicated that it's going to be a "realistic approach" involving not only teachers but psychologists, doctors, and "the whole community." Its overall aims will be both preventive and corrective because, as he says, "the kids really want it and they aren't interested in quick, crash programs. They want something they can really relate to."

Some seven miles away at little Giant City grade school, there are two teachers in charge of drug and sex education courses for the upper grades (6th on up). Superintendent Claude Ross, one of the old timers in elementary education around those parts, says, "We're going at this with a fine-toothed comb."

Then there's the matter of honesty, kindness, justice and moral courage. Some things, though, are hard to teach.

Coulson Backs Amended State Drug Law

Republican Senator Robert Coulson of Waukegan announced today his strong support for the recently introduced Senate Republican legislative program to revamp Illinois' drug control laws.

Senator Coulson commented, "This legislation recognizes the need for radical reform of Illinois' narcotic laws in order to meet the serious drug crisis which now confronts us."

The Republican program provides for harsh punishment for illegal manufacture and pushers of dangerous drugs while encouraging rehabilitation of the victimized users. Stricter control of the manufacture, distribution and use of all high abuse potential drugs are also required.

Senator Coulson added, "The bill particularly increases the punishment for those convicted of illegally selling harmful drugs to minors. The bill also establishes procedures for obtaining warrants for search and seizure of the controlled drugs, for probationary treatment of convicted users, and for research and administration of experimental Methadone programs authorized by the Department of Mental Health.

STARTING FROM SCRATCH?

If you're starting a garden from scratch this year, take a tip from people who've done it before — depend on annuals. Bare as the yard is before there are grass and flowers, its appearance can speedily be changed. See the difference made by the first small plants set along the fence in the background.

The whole family enjoys the transformed yard. Daughter waters the stocks, snapdragons and lobelia blooming so gaily. Son takes his first steps on soft grass. Mother and Dad are proud of the results of their plantings earlier in the season.

Don't Loan License, Lewis Warns

Secretary of State John W. Lewis warned today that anyone who loans or borrows an Illinois driver's license for any purpose is subject to loss of driving privileges.

Secretary Lewis said "recent reports have come to my attention that persons are loaning driver's licenses so that another person may use them for identification purposes. This has been particularly true among younger people who use them to imply they are of legal drinking age."

Lewis said state law provides for a penalty for both the person who loans a license and for someone who borrows one.

The Illinois Motor Vehicle Code states:

"The Secretary of State is authorized to suspend or revoke the license or permit of any person without preliminary hearing upon a showing of his records or other sufficient evidence that such person:

"Has permitted an unlawful or fraudulent use of such license or permit.

"Has displayed or represented as his own any license or permit not issued to him."

Lewis said "the Division of Investigation and the Drivers License Division will work closely with local law enforcement officials and courts to see that the state's drivers license laws are properly enforced."

Emmons Ends Season On Undeclared Note

The Emmons Raiders closed out their conference season with two victories over Newport. The double victories gave Emmons a perfect conference record of 20-0.

In the first game the Emmons B team had a rough time in the first half. The Raiders left at the half trailing the Braves 8-7. However, Tom Grego and Scott Maras combined to score 14 second half points to pull Emmons to victory. Leading all scorers was Grego with 10. Maras added 6, while Bill Murrie scored 8 points for the losers.

In the season finals for the A team, it was all Emmons. Feeling the pressure of the winning streak and some school records, Emmons was cold in the first period. Holding only a 9-3 lead, the Raiders finally got their floor legs and opened up the game in the second stanza. During the second period Emmons outscored Newport 24-7. From then on it was up to the subs to mop up for Emmons.

Bob Dodd led the Emmons attack with 16 points, 4 assists and 7 rebounds. Center Jim January led all rebounders with 18 rebounds and 7 points. Bill Petty scored a career high 11 points, while hauling down 16 rebounds. Adding to a balanced attack was Bob Bach and Dennis Thain with 8 points. Two other eighth graders, Don Mahar, playing on a sprained ankle, and Jeff Schmidt, with a broken hand, closed out their grade school basketball for Emmons.

Leading Newport scoring was Dan Booth with 8 points. The final score had Emmons on top 62-18. Newport 3 7 4 4-16

Expanded Legal Aid Services Planned For State's Indigent

Providing legal services for persons unable to afford an attorney is no new problem; but it is receiving new emphasis in Illinois.

As many readers know, lawyers traditionally have doted freely of their time in handling the problems of the needy, or by performing these services at a fraction of their actual value. This historic discharge of a professional obligation continues.

In recent years, however, bar associations as well as individual attorneys have sought more organized methods of lending a helping legal hand. The result is the legal aid bureau or assistance program.

These bureaus range in size from large, multi-branched offices in metropolitan areas to small, part-time facilities in less populous regions. Many are solely community funded, some are privately endowed, while others receive all or a large part of their financial support from federal government sources.

And if all are devoted to helping those who are in need of legal assistance but without the means to pay, they also share a common problem—insufficient funds for the tasks they face.

It is ironic but true that in this age of expanding concepts of social justice one of the more vital instruments of aiding the needy is, itself, in need of aid.

The Board of Governors of the Illinois State Bar Association, is determined that legal aid services to the poor shall be available on a statewide basis. H. Ogden Brainard, Charleston, the ISBA president, recently announced a seven-point program aimed at broadening the service through the following:

- Aid in developing legal assistance programs in all areas of the state not adequately served.
- Assistance in developing funds, both from private as well as public sources, to offset a growing reliance on federal funds.
- The establishment of high standards of quality for legal aid services.
- The development of a structure for handling legal aid appeals on the appellate level.
- The training of lawyers in those areas of the law that most affect the poor.
- The creation of a special advisory committee to evaluate applications for funds by legal aid organizations.
- A coordination of effort between private and public agencies concerned with the rendering of legal services to the indigent.

ISBA's governing board also is concerned that legal aid services being funded by federal sources not be narrowed by budget limitations but continue to provide for the handling of cases of poor individuals. A special bar committee reported to the board that programs funded by the Legal Services Division of the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) may be oriented toward law reform cases and to handling cases involving groups of indigents having similar problems.

Customers Use Record Amount Of Electricity

Customers in Commonwealth Edison Company's northern division used a record amount of electricity in 1970 as kilowatt-hour sales topped the seven billion mark for the first time.

Les Milligan, division vice president, made the announcement in an annual report on the electric company's local activities. The division serves over 390,000 customers in 161 communities and extends from Chicago's northern city limits to the Wisconsin state line and from Lake Michigan west through half of McHenry County.

"Kilowatt-hour use increased over nine per cent from nearly 6.5 billion kilowatt-hours in 1969 to almost 7.1 billion last year," Milligan said. "Record electric sales were offset, however, by inflationary pressures that continued to push up the costs we must pay to provide abundant and reliable electric service."

In 1969 Edison requested its first general rate increase in 11 years and last summer was granted relief of less than five per cent by the Illinois Commerce Commission.

"Even with the raise in rates, Edison residential customers are still paying less per kilowatt-hour on the average than they did in 1960," Milligan said. "Because of ever higher costs, the company early this year was forced to return to the ICC to seek a boost of about 10.4 per cent over present charges."

Milligan disclosed that in 1970 Edison budgeted a record high $80 million on environmental projects to preserve the air, land and water. With past expenditures, the company projects it will have over $285 million invested in such programs by the end of 1975.

"In the last half of 1970 we succeeded in cutting sulfur dioxide emissions in Chicago by almost 80 per cent compared with the same period in 1969," Milligan said. "Last year we displaced eight million tons of high sulfur content coal with low sulfur fuels."

Significant progress was made in northern division last year.

"In 1970 we brought in the first low-sulfur western coal from mines over 1,000 miles from Chicago," Milligan said. "Last year at our Waukegan station we burned 342,000 tons of this coal with an average sulfur content of under one per cent. At the same time we are installing a $2.3 million precipitator and fly ash handling equipment that will sharply reduce emissions at the site."

Commenting on Edison's 1970 construction program, Milligan said the company's expansion program made another 330,000 kilowatts of capacity available for the needs of customers locally. Construction also began on a $400,000 expansion program at Edison's Northwest area headquarters, 201 N. Arthur Ave., in Mount Prospect. Scheduled for completion in mid-1971, the project will add 5,000 sq. ft. of office space and about 9,000 sq. ft. for service departments. About 340 Edison employees are based at the utility's Northwest area headquarters. It serves 12 suburbs including Arlington Heights, Des Plaines, Mount Prospect and Park Ridge.

"The headquarters serves the fastest growing area in Edison's service territory," Milligan said. "In the last decade our customer load in northwest area increased from 60,000 customers to over 120,000 today. We expect this to climb to 180,000 customers by 1975."

Milligan reported on the success of the company's computerized customer information system after its first full year of operation.

"Customer information is stored in the memory cells of a central data processing unit," Milligan said. "A service representative using a terminal with a standard typewriter keyboard signals the computer to reach into its memory cells and retrieve vital customer service information. Within seconds, information is flashed on a television

Spring To Bow March 21

Spring will officially begin the northern hemisphere on March 21, 1971 just 30 minutes after the stroke of midnight, announced Dr. Joseph M. Chamberlain, Director of the Chicago Park District's Adler Planetarium.

The season changes precisely at 12:38 a.m. (Central Standard Time), when the sun crosses the celestial equator on its way northward. This can be observed only if a person is on the opposite or daylight side of the earth.

Because the earth's axis is tilted 23½ degrees to its orbit around the sun, the sun appears to change its position in the sky each day. In the Northern Hemisphere it is highest in the sky in the summer and lowest in the winter. The sun is at a midway point exactly twice a year—at the vernal (Spring) and autumnal (Fall) equinoxes. At these times, day and night are of almost equal lengths except for locations in the polar regions, where the sun appears to slide along the horizon never rising or setting that day.

The change in seasons is gradual, since it takes time for the atmosphere to warm up to spring weather. This means that we can still expect a blustery, winter weather if March, as usual comes in like a lamb and goes out like a lion.

screen."

Milligan said the system has benefited Edison customers by speeding up service, greatly improving accuracy and streamlining data handling. In 1970 Northern division responded to nearly 400,000 customer service requests for such matters as turn-ons and turn-offs, bill processing, and service emergencies.
